Syrinx Systems are an IT company specialising in software development.

Environmental highlights

Achieving what we set out to do and receiving a recognised award for our efforts.

Green credentials

Suffolk Carbon Charter - Bronze Award.

A summary of environmental achievements

We have reduced our travel related emissions by the effective use of cloud technologies, online meetings and by providing remote support services.

Personal testimony

The Green Light Trust mentoring courses were both interesting and informative and helped a great deal with preparations for the audit. All decisions are now made with careful consideration to our impact. We are now in the habit of turning all machines off and we have built a charging station which has reduced the time our gadgets are "on" by two thirds.

Key lessons

The courses we attended were excellent and we now know how to measure our environmental impact correctly. This is a key factor when considering implementing specific measures or starting future projects.
